

SIRC Named Prime Contractor for NASA SEWP V Contract NNG15SD74B
as a HubZone and Women-Owned Small Business

Award makes SIRC's portfolio of leading solutions providers and IT services available to federal agencies

Washington DC – April 9, 2020 – Software Information Resource Corp. (SIRC), a Value-Added Reseller (VAR) and trusted IT services provider, is proud to announce it has been named a NASA Solutions for Enterprise-Wide Procurement (SEWP) V contract holder. The SEWP Government-Wide Acquisition Contract (GWAC) offers a wide range of capabilities to all federal agencies, providing hardware, software, and professional services.

“The SEWP Office’s core goal is to excel in customer support and service to the federal agencies they serve,” said Ajay Gandhi, SIRC COO. “We are very excited to now offer our government customers this procurement vehicle for acquiring solutions from our cutting-edge technology partners and to enable them to meet their HubZone and WOSB goals.”

SIRC’s award currently covers Products and Professional services in Group C and has an effective ordering period through April 30, 2025. The company has partnered with leading solutions providers including Adobe, Blackberry, Dell Technologies, Google Cloud, HID, IBM, Micro Focus, Nutanix, RSA, Salesforce, SAP, Snowflake, Symantec, Tableau, UiPath, and Veritas. Plus, SIRC’s combined decades of partnership with distributors such as Carahsoft Technology Corp. help the company offer a best-of-breed solution for addressing key government initiatives. These strong relationships pave the way for faster and smoother transactions resulting in quality solutions.

Despite recent environmental conditions, SIRC’s team is dedicated to delivering upon our mission and is available to answer any questions from our partners and customers. Our people and our customer-oriented values are the cornerstones of our business in this fast paced technology arena, and the SIRC team is ready and available to assist you with your software and services requirements on time and within budget.
